NAACP CELEBRATES LOVE THIS VALENTINES DAY

PITTSBURGH (Feb 14, 2018) - The NAACP will celebrate all that love stands for on Feb. 14, 2018.

February is the month of love. On Valentines Day, love is often celebrated devouring chocolate with your significant other. However, the NAACP wants to remind the community that love comes in many forms and has a variety of meanings. Love is not just a relationship or marriage. Love is also about giving, caring, resiliency and unity.

Love is an intense feeling of affection. Essentially, anything that you care about has to be put forth by a form of love. Whether it's towards your partner, your children, your community or work.

Truly, love is about finding yourself, accepting yourself, or at least that's where it begins. Love is generated from your values, beliefs, goals and motives. Love is what drives you, lifts you and empowers you.

On this Valentines Day, the NAACP challenges you to make time for your significant other, but also for the community. There are people who need you. People who do not have a voice anymore and feel silenced or oppressed.

So, make time to help your neighbor, be a friend and to stand up for what you believe in, so that love can be demonstrated each and every day.

Sincerely,

Richard Stewart, Pittsburgh, PA Chapter president
