

Acknowledging & Celebrating our History

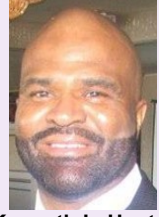

Langston Hughes
One of the great needs of Negro children is to have books about themselves and their lives that can help them be proud.

Frederick Douglass
Power concedes nothing without a demand. It never did and it never will.

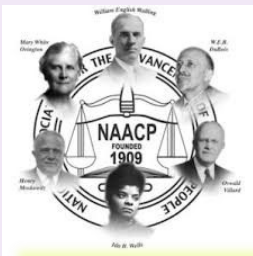

Rosa Parks
Racism is still with us. But it is up to us to prepare our children for what they have to meet, and,

NAACP FOUNDER'S DAY

Founded February 12, 1909, the NAACP established its national office in New York City in 1910.

Platform of the National Negro Committee, 1909

After “the Call” went out, the National Negro Conference was held at Charity Organization Hall in New York City on May 31 and June 1, 1909. An interracial assembly of 300 men and women attended sessions designed to scientifically refute the popular belief in Negro inferiority. The speakers included sociologist W.E.B. Du Bois, anthropologist Livingston Farrand, economist Edwin Seligman, and neurologist Burt G. Wilder.

The National Negro Committee, or Committee of Forty, was formed to plan a permanent organization. At the second annual meeting on May 12, 1910, the Committee adopted the formal name of the organization, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Du Bois recommended “Colored” instead of “Negro” to signify the Association’s interest in advancing the rights of all dark-skinned people. The goals of the NAACP were the abolition of segregation, discrimination, disenfranchisement, and racial violence, particularly lynching.
